In re Patent Application of:
Alastair Hodges et al.

Application No.: 10/632,947

Filed: July 31, 2003

For: ANTIOXIDANT SENSOR

Confirmation No.: 4975

Art Unit: 1795

Examiner: K. K. Olsen

INTERVIEW SUMMARY

Commissioner of Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450

Dear Madam:

Applicants thank the Examiner for the courtesy of an interview with Applicants' undersigned representative on November 20, 2008. During the interview, agreement was reached that to the extent that disclosures contained in International Publication No. WO 97/18464 ("the WO '464 Publication") (and to that extent the Australian Provisional Application PN6619 ("the PN6619 Application"), from which the WO '464 Publication claims priority) are recited in the present claims, the WO '464 Publication is not a proper prior art reference. Because the present application claims priority from both the WO '464 Publication and the PN6619 Application, Applicants' representative and the Examiner agreed that for each claim presented by Applicants in response to the pending Office Action in which each recitation of the claim is disclosed by the '464 Publication and/or the PN6619 Application, said claim(s) has a priority date corresponding to the priority date of the '464 Publication or the PN6619 Application, respectively, and thus the '464 Publication is not a proper prior art reference with respect to the claim(s).

The Examiner and Applicants' representative further agreed that appropriate claims would be presented by Applicants in the forthcoming response to the pending Office Action.

Dated: November 21, 2008

Respectfully submitted,

By
